ENTRY LEVEL 3 READING SKILLS • SYLLABUS E3.R8–R12

Reading Unit 1: Reading Notices and Signs

Fire warden guiding staff to Assembly Point B by the emergency exit sign.

★ Reading Skill, Strategy & Key Vocabulary

Public notices and workplace safety signs use bold headings, capital letters, and imperative (command) verbs (e.g. Stop, Walk, Do NOT use) to give urgent instructions and warnings (Syllabus E3.R9, E3.R10, E3.R12).

evacuation: leaving a building safely in an emergency	assembly point: safe outdoor meeting place during a fire drill
fire warden: trained staff member in charge of fire safety	routine: happening regularly as part of a normal schedule
emergency exit: designated green door used to escape danger	prohibited: strictly not allowed (e.g. Do NOT use lifts)

✓ Search Strategy

Scan for capitalised names, days, times (e.g. 10:00am), and words in CAPITALS like 'NOT'.

! Examiner Watch Out

Do not confuse the routine weekly test time with what to do in a real emergency.

Reading Unit 2: Finding Main Ideas in Articles

Volunteers planting autumn bulbs at the Greendale Community Garden reopening.

★ Reading Skill, Strategy & Key Vocabulary

Newspaper and community articles use a headline to sum up the main topic and an opening sentence that answers Who, What, Where, and When (Syllabus E3.R9, E3.R10).

- reopens: opens again to the public after work or closure
- volunteers: people who offer their time freely without pay
- transformed: changed completely in appearance for the better
- allotment: small plot of land rented for growing vegetables
- sensory garden: garden designed with plants to touch, smell, and see
- pavilion: shelter or clubhouse building in a park or garden

✓ Search Strategy

Read the headline and first sentence first to spot the main event, date, and opening time.

Writing Unit 1: Capital Letters for Sentences, Names and Places

Oxford Community Centre welcome team and city bus on Monday morning.

Core Writing Rule, Syllabus Explanation & Vocabulary

Syllabus E3.W13 requires a capital letter at the start of every sentence, for the pronoun 'I', and for all proper nouns: people's names and titles (Mr Clarke, David), days (Monday, Friday), months (October), and towns/places (Oxford, High Street).

× Common Learner Error

every monday morning, david catches the bus to oxford and i meet him.

✓ Entry 3 Full-Marks Model

Every Monday morning, David catches the bus to Oxford and I meet him.

Tutor Golden Rule

Always check that the single word 'I' is a capital letter, even in the middle of a sentence.

Examiner Watch Out

Do not put capital letters on ordinary common nouns like 'bus', 'morning', or 'reception'.

Writing Unit 2: Full Stops, Question Marks and Exclamation Marks

Warehouse loading bay delivery van, timesheet check, and steam pipe warning sign.

Core Writing Rule, Syllabus Explanation & Vocabulary

Syllabus E3.W13 tests three end-of-sentence marks: a full stop (.) ends a statement or fact; a question mark (?) ends a direct question starting with Who, What, Where, When, Why, How, Have, Do, Can; an exclamation mark (!) shows an urgent warning or strong feeling.

× Common Learner Error
What time does the training start. The van has arrived, watch out for the hot pipe.

✓ Entry 3 Full-Marks Model
What time does the training start? The van has arrived. Watch out for the hot pipe!

Tutor Golden Rule

Writing Unit 3: Commas in Lists and Apostrophes for Contractions

Checking the office stationery order list and workshop tool kit inventory.

Core Writing Rule, Syllabus Explanation & Vocabulary

Syllabus E3.W13 covers commas in lists (use commas between 3 or more items, with and before the last item) and apostrophes for contraction/omission (where letters are left out: do not → don't, cannot → can't, I am → I'm, it is → it's) and singular possession (Sarah's pass).

× Common Learner Error
We ordered pens paper clips and folders, but I cant find Sarahs notebook.

✓ Entry 3 Full-Marks Model
We ordered pens, paper, clips and folders, but I can't find Sarah's notebook.

Tutor Golden Rule

Put the apostrophe directly in the exact spot where the missing letter stood (do not -> don't).

Syllabus E3.W21 requires you to join two short simple sentences into a compound sentence using a coordinating conjunction: and (adds a similar point), but (shows a contrast or problem), or or (offers an alternative choice).

× Common Learner Error
I wanted to apply for the warehouse job. I did not have a forklift licence.

✓ Entry 3 Full-Marks Model
I wanted to apply for the warehouse job, but I did not have a forklift licence.

✓ Tutor Golden Rule

When joining two sentences with 'and', 'but', or 'or', drop the first full stop and change the next capital letter to lower case (unless it is 'I' or a name).

Travel information desk and team discussion at Oxford Central Station.

★ Official Pearson Edexcel Annexe D Spelling & Phonics Rule

Official Annexe D Rule (E3.R8, E3.W17): The /shun/ sound at the end of a noun is usually spelled -tion (action, station, question, section, information, instruction, qualification, reception) or -sion (decision, discussion, television, permission). The /cher/ sound is spelled -ture (picture, future, furniture, temperature).

12 Core Annexe D Target Words:

✓ Memory & Phonics Strategy

Most nouns formed from verbs ending in '-t' or '-te' use '-tion' (instruct -> instruction, inform -> information, educate -> education).

! Examiner Spelling Trap

Use '-sion' for words built from verbs ending in '-d', '-de', or '-ss' (decide -> decision, discuss -> discussion).
