Graffiti in Weston

It seems like every morning, residents of our humble town awake to see a new illustration on the brick walls of a local shop or pedestrian tunnel. These unexpected additions to the local scenery divide opinion among residents.

An Art Form

Some people (mainly younger citizens of Weston, who are responsible for the majority of the graffiti) believe that graffiti is a form of self-expression, and should be encouraged and appreciated as a unique form of art. Lizzie, aged 19, had this to say:

'I'm not sure why so many people consider street art a problem. Sure, there's no Banksy in Weston, but our street artists are turning blank brick walls into exciting and vibrant pieces of art.'

Unsightly and Unlawful

Yet older residents have complained about the increase in graffiti, and have suggested that street artists should pay fines. They argue that most graffiti is not aesthetically pleasing, and it is not hard to see why- it is far more common to see an illegible name scrawled in neon paint than a detailed mural.

Have your say!

Subject: Report on disturbances in Bramby Community Park

Disturbances in Bramby Community Park
Over the past week, there have been several incidents in Bramby Community Park that need to be addressed.

Alcohol and Noise Disturbances
Despite signs on the park gates strictly forbidding the consumption of alcohol in the park, underage people have been seen drinking alcohol in the park every day this week. Often, the drinking is accompanied by loud music, which is irritating to local residents and intimidating to children who would like to play in the playground.

Littering

Underage drinkers often leave cans and bottles lying on the grass. In addition to being incredibly unsightly and unhygienic, this could cause injury to any wildlife in the park as well as the young children who play there.

Conclusions and Suggestions

Recently, behaviour in the park has been unacceptable. The consumption of alcohol, loud music, and littering are making the park an unpleasant environment for almost everybody. It is likely that increased policing in the area would reduce underage drinking and noise pollution. A larger number of waste bins and increased waste collection in the park could reduce littering.
