Will's Blog: Happy Days

My big news is that I have now moved into a beautiful terraced house in Stapleton Street where I've got a larger kitchen and a small back garden. My old apartment in Herringbone Street was far too small!

Finding a new place to live wasn't easy, as all the two bedroom houses in my area were too expensive and the bungalow I viewed with the estate agent was gloomy and damp. Most of the properties weren't close enough to a bus stop, which for me is essential and, unlike Stapleton Street, didn't have shops within walking distance.

Managing the move was less stressful than I'd expected. Frightened by horror stories from friends, I drew up a checklist of things I needed to do long before moving, and then I made another list of what I needed to do on moving day itself. Weeks in advance, I informed my landlord of the date I'd be leaving and at the same time started a big clear-out of things I didn't want to take with me.

On the day itself, I used my phone to take a photograph of the gas, electricity and water meter readings and I checked that all cupboards were cleared and left clean. The week before, I'd already packed some of my things in strong cardboard boxes and labelled them; I'd also confirmed the date – arranged long before – with my removal company. On the day of the move I put essentials like toiletries, a mug and cutlery in an overnight bag and put Stanley, my cat, in a cat carrier so he would be safe. My friend came round early on the day to help. She brought sandwiches, coffee and milk to see us through the day and we dropped the keys off with the landlord.

Text B

You read this on the Move Smooth removal company website.

According to research, moving house can be very stressful indeed. However, it doesn't have to be, because at Move Smooth we understand all your concerns and promise to make your house move easy. Over the past five years our experienced uniformed team has moved hundreds of families into their new homes. Our clients have described us as 'efficient and very polite'.

Because we plan your move down to the last detail, we can resolve access and parking issues that could become potential problems on the day. We are fully insured and this is one of the reasons customers say we offer first-class customer service and are always very well-organised.

For an additional charge we can pack all your things in boxes and make sure they arrive safely at your new home. If you wish, for no extra charge, we can dismantle and reassemble any large items of furniture. However, we do charge for our plumber to disconnect and reconnect kitchen appliances such as washing machines.

The price we charge depends on how far you are moving, the quantity of items we have to move and the time the move will take.

We can carry out a free no obligation survey of your house contents and give you a fixed price for your house move, which means you will know exactly what you have to pay. Satisfied customers have told us that we offer excellent value for money.

We charge a non-returnable deposit of £50 and the final payment can be in cash, by debit or credit card or by bank transfer.

To smooth your move contact us on enquiries@movesmooth.biz or phone / text us on 07700 900343.
