Question 1

You will be assessed on:

- Communicating information, ideas and opinions clearly, coherently and accurately
- Communicating with appropriate detail to suit purpose and audience
- Using appropriate format, structure and language for purpose and audience
- Writing consistently and accurately in complex sentences, using paragraphs where appropriate
- Using correct spelling, punctuation and grammar.

Question 1

You witnessed a minor accident where a cyclist crashed into a pedestrian who was crossing the road. No one was seriously hurt, but the cyclist and the pedestrian had an argument about whose fault it was, which ended up with the police being called.

As you witnessed the whole event, the police have asked you to provide written details of what you saw.

Your task: write the narrative (sequence of events) of what happened. Include the following detail:

- where and when the accident took place
- what happened to cause the accident
- whose fault you believe it was
- what happened during the argument.

- Communicating with appropriate detail to suit purpose and audience
- Using appropriate format, structure and language for purpose and audience
- Writing consistently and accurately in complex sentences, using paragraphs where appropriate
- Using correct spelling, punctuation and grammar.

Question 2

You would like to raise money for your favourite charity and have the idea of holding a sponsored silence for a whole afternoon.

Your task: write an email to a friend explaining your idea and asking them to help organise it.

Include the following detail:

- why you are writing
- what your idea is and how you think the event should be organised
- what the charity is and what they do
- what tasks you would like your friend to do to help.

Your friend's email address is j250@hotmail.com

WITNESS STATEMENT: ROAD INCIDENT ON HIGH STREET

At approximately 3:15 pm on Tuesday 14 October, I was standing outside the post office on High Street when I witnessed a collision between a cyclist and a pedestrian.

The pedestrian had stepped onto the zebra crossing after checking both directions. Seconds later, a cyclist travelling at speed rounded the corner, failed to brake in time, and clipped the pedestrian's shoulder. Fortunately, neither person suffered serious injuries, though both fell onto the tarmac.

Immediately afterwards, a heated argument broke out. The cyclist claimed the pedestrian had stepped out without looking, while the pedestrian shouted that cyclists must stop at zebra crossings. Two passers-by helped them to the pavement until police officers arrived.

In my view, the cyclist was clearly at fault because the pedestrian was already on the marked crossing and the cyclist was riding too fast to stop safely.

Subject: Help Needed: Charity Sponsored Silence!

Hi Jamie,

I am writing to ask if you would like to help me organise a fun fundraising event next month. My plan is to hold a sponsored silence for an entire afternoon—from 1:00 pm to 5:00 pm—at our local community hall.

We would be raising money for Mind, the mental health charity that provides free counselling, helplines, and local support groups for people experiencing anxiety or depression.

To make it run smoothly, participants can collect sponsor pledges in advance and bring snacks to celebrate once the four hours are over. Could you please design a bright poster to advertise the event and manage the sign-up sheet at college? I will book the hall and print the sponsorship forms.

Let me know if you are free to meet this Friday to plan the details!

Best wishes,

Alex
