The Two-Stage Diagnostic Remediation Routine

When an online diagnostic test flags a gap, passive reading rarely leads to retention. Our Two-Stage method forces active cognitive recall before revealing tutor solutions:

Stage 1: Independent Retry Challenge

A chemist mixes two cleaning liquids, Solution A and Solution B, in the ratio 3 : 5. The total mixture has a volume of 960 ml.
Calculate the volume of Solution B in the mixture.

Stage 2: Tutor Stepped Model & Diagnostic Proof

- Step 1: Add ratio parts together: 3 + 5 = 8 total parts.
- Step 2: Find value of one part: 960 ml ÷ 8 = 120 ml per part.
- Step 3: Multiply by required share: Solution B has 5 parts → 5 × 120 ml = 600 ml.
- Verification Check: Solution A = 3 × 120 = 360 ml. 360 + 600 = 960 ml ✓.
