My Ten-Year Career Vision: Becoming a Senior Dental Hygienist

[Article Title]

By Jordan Bennett | Career Pathways Article

[Author Byline]

Looking ahead over the next ten years, my main career goal is to qualify and work as a dental hygienist in a local NHS health clinic. Good dental care plays a very important role in overall health, and I want to help patients look after their teeth and feel less nervous during visits. Educating patients about good daily habits is something I find very rewarding.

[10-Year Career Goal] [Oral Health Role] [Patient Education]

I made this career choice after spending two weeks doing work experience with dental hygienists at our local clinic last summer. I saw how their friendly care, clear explanations, and gentle treatment helped nervous children and adults feel at ease. The job offers a great mix of practical healthcare work and helping people face to face every single day.

PRACTICE PAPER

To reach my goal, I have planned out my next steps carefully. After finishing my current qualifications, I will start a dental nursing apprenticeship this coming September. Once I gain good practical experience, I plan to take a dental hygiene training course while continuing to work part-time. With hard work, practice, and determination, I know I can build a successful career in healthcare that makes a real difference to people. I know that training takes time, but I am excited for the future.

Subject: Complaint

Dear Mr Buckley, [Polite greeting]

I am writing to express my severe disappointment regarding the regional athletics championship held at your stadium last Saturday afternoon. My friend and I attended the event with great anticipation, but our overall experience was completely unacceptable from start to finish. [Complaint Context] [Unacceptable Service]

Firstly, despite paying forty pounds each for premium grandstand tickets, our allocated seats were positioned directly behind a massive concrete pillar that obstructed our view of the running track. Secondly, the catering kiosks charged extortionate prices for cold, soggy chips and warm soft drinks. To make matters worse, when we politely reported these issues, the stadium stewards responded with unprovoked rudeness and refused to offer any assistance. Given these serious problems, I request an immediate full refund of our eighty-pound ticket costs. In addition, I urge stadium management to inspect seating visibility and provide customer service training for all staff so that future visitors receive the standards they deserve.

Yours sincerely,
