0 4 Using the information in Source A, put a tick (✓) in the correct box to show whether each statement is true or false.

	True	False
More than 200 homes were destroyed in 2008.		✓
The fire was moving more quickly than the traffic.	✓

0 5 The writer of Source A presents both facts and opinions.

0 5 . 1 Identify two facts about the town of Paradise, apart from its fires.

Fact 2 'there is only one main route out of the town'

[1 mark]

0 6 Explain how the writer of Source A uses words and language techniques to describe the wildfire.

You should provide examples from Source A in your answer.

[3 marks]

The writer uses emotive language such as 'achingly dry' and the quote 'it was panic' to show how devastating the fire was for the people of Paradise, and to encourage readers to feel the panic and aching feeling that they felt.

Metaphors such as 'a choking, swirling shroud' and similes like 'trees lighting up like matches' are used to help the reader picture the devastation. The 'shroud' creates an image of death, as it relates to a funeral shroud, while the image of trees 'like matches' shows how quickly the fire spread.

1 4 Compare Source A and Source C in terms of what they say and how the material is conveyed.

You may wish to refer to the level of detail, presentation and language, formality, possible bias and how the writers come across.

[6 marks]

Source A informs the reader about a specific wildfire, and describes the fire, while Source C informs the reader about what firefighters are like and what they do. Source A uses facts such as 'destroyed 14,000 homes' to inform readers about a wildfire, and uses a range of language techniques such as the metaphor 'a blizzard of ash' to create a serious tone and help the reader picture just how devastating the wildfire was. Contrastingly, Source C is much less descriptive, and presents facts and opinions such as 'it's important that people have an escape route' in a detached, impersonal style.

Source A is more formal than Source C. Source A is most likely from a newspaper or online article with a formal tone, as it does not use informal language (except briefly in a quotation from a school teacher) or contractions. Source C presents a casual dialogue and includes slang such as 'bloke' and contractions like 'we're' to engage with the reader in an informal podcast.

Source A is more detailed than Source C, as Source A conveys a wide range of facts and figures about a specific fire, while Source C gives a generic 'Q&A' about the role of a firefighter more generally.
