0 6 Explain how the writer of Source A uses words and language techniques in the first two paragraphs to describe the problems in Newquay.

You should quote words and phrases from Source A in your answer.

[3 marks]

The writer uses a metaphor to explain that 'Newquay's image was in tatters'. This suggests that the town developed a very bad reputation as it was 'known as a hardcore party resort where anything went' and underage drinking caused a lot of trouble. The writer's colloquial language reflects the unruly nature of the 'no-go area' that resulted from teenage partying.

The writer then uses harrowing facts to highlight the seriousness of the problem when they inform the reader that 'two teenagers died falling from cliffs, while a third was seriously injured'.

1 4 Compare Source A and Source C. Write about what they say and how the material is conveyed.

You may wish to refer to the level of detail, presentation and language, formality, possible bias and how the writers come across.

[6 marks]

The writers of Source A and Source C agree that drinking can be harmful for young people. Source A uses stark facts like 'two teenagers died falling from cliffs' to convey the seriousness of the issue, whilst Source C similarly highlights the fact that underage drinking is 'illegal' and increases the likelihood of 'alcohol-related problems as an adult'.

Source A is very critical of Newquay's past as a 'hardcore party resort', and uses colloquial language to create a conversational tone as the writer expresses relief that the 'no-go area' has developed a 'family-friendly feel' as changes have been made to the town. The tone of Source C is less critical, and slightly less biased against underage drinking, emphasising that although it is 'illegal', it'isn't easy these days' to encourage teenagers to stay away from alcohol. Like Source A, Source C adopts a conversational tone and uses direct address to advise 'Worried Mum' that she should 'Try encouraging your daughter to enjoy life without alcohol and be proud to be different.'
