The Book that Made Lockdown Bearable: War and Peace

During lockdown, I listened to the War and Peace audiobook while completing everyday chores.

A very long book…

Before I started listening, I knew very little about the book aside from the fact that it is incredibly long. Trawling through a physical copy of it seemed like a chore, but listening to it while completing other activities filled each day with inspiration.

A gripping story

Although there are parts of the book that feel very dated (it is filled with aristocratic parties and hunting trips), there were many highs and lows to enjoy. From a bear attending a party to a sweet girl becoming sick almost to the point of death, the book made me reflect on humanity, and was gripping throughout. There were also interesting insights into the way that history is written that would intrigue any philosopher.

Conclusion

The book inspired me to think about people and the way they live their lives in a whole new way. As a history enthusiast, I was captivated by the writer's ideas about historical narratives, and it inspired me to learn more about the period in which the book is set.

Subject: Incorrect pizza delivery

Dear Ms McLeod,

I am emailing regarding an incorrect recent order with Bramby Cosmo Foods. I ordered a 14-inch ‘cheeky chicken’ pizza via the Eataroo app to celebrate my mother’s birthday on 12th June.

Although the delivery was quick, the pizza that arrived contained spicy pepperoni rather than the chicken and sweetcorn that my family were expecting. My two younger siblings were unable to eat the spicy food, and I was left incredibly disappointed as the birthday celebration was ruined.

I tried to call Bramby Cosmo Foods twice to tell them about the issue, but both times, I was greeted by a cold, automated message informing me that the line was busy. This made me feel unheard, and in my opinion, employing more staff to answer the phones would increase the professionalism of your company and the satisfaction of your customers.

As the pizza was relatively expensive, I would appreciate either a refund or a free pizza in the future as compensation for our negative experience.

Yours sincerely,

Jacob Mountbatten.
