Sample Answer- Pass

Beloved beauty spot ruined by vicious vandals.

Sadly, our local beachside benches, on the cliffs to the east of the ice cream stand, have been smashed and upturned by vandals. Furthermore, the vandals have also graffitied the benches with offensive messages which currently are unable to be removed without specialist equipment. As if this horrible level of destruction wasn't enough, litter has been scattered throughout the area, posing a serious risk to local wildlife and to young children who may pick up dangerous items.

This article acts as a call to action. Your local community group is calling in specialist cleaners to remove the graffiti and repair the broken benches. We're additionally organising a litter pick on Saturday 19th June to mitigate the damage done by these vandals, with an open invitation to anyone who wants to join us.

An action plan has been devised to prevent this happening again, with anti-criminal signs to be installed and a CCTV camera on the ice cream stand to deter the same people from coming back and wreaking more havoc. More funding for local PCSOs has been discussed and will be brought up at the next council meeting.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to complain about my recent flight with Easi-air from Leeds to Manchester at 4:45am.

My flight was urgent, for an important work meeting with a strict time deadline, and was delayed for 6 hours which resulted in me missing the meeting. This is unacceptable, especially considering the level of customer service promised in your website.

Your pledge to customers includes you saying 'we'll always be straight with you and keep you informed at all times', but this was the opposite of the service I received. I could hardly locate any staff that were actually present at the airport, and the ones I did find were beyond unhelpful. I was told to simply get a replacement train or find my own way of transportation which I find absolutely ridiculous.

In light of this service, which is in direct contradiction of your customer pledge, I am asking for compensation. Based on the Civil Aviation Authority's guidance, I am entitled to £600 for the length of my flight delay. This is all I ask for, despite believing I deserve much more for how much inconvenience I experienced.

Yours faithfully,
John Smithy

Examiner comments:

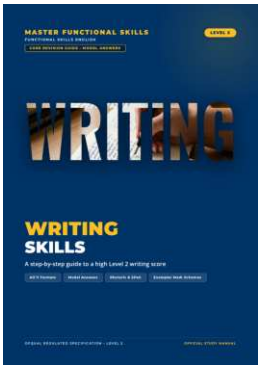

- Explain why candidate is writing, clear and detailed reasons for their complaint and request provided for compensation
- Appropriate structure and format for a letter e.g address of return and sender
